

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's watch a Hollywood musical tonight!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe taste and style in music and fashion through a wider range of language in both work and social contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about socializing and music.
- I can compare two things or people and describe the quality of an object or a person.
- I can agree or disagree with so or neither.

Ask your partner:

- How would you describe a musical film?
- How popular do you think musicals are these days?

Let's Explore!

Vanessa is upset she shelled out so much money!

* When you "shell out" money, you spend it.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: I think I'd like to watch some old Hollywood musicals this weekend.
Sally: So would I. That's a great idea.
Vanessa: I'm not as well-versed on names of musicals as I should be though.
Sally: Neither am I. We could ask at the DVD rental shop. I think they could recommend some.
Vanessa: So do I. I could also look up some online.
Sally: So could I. That would give us a list of as many movies as we could watch in an evening I think.
Vanessa: So do I. I really hate to go on about that music festival, but I wasn't at all happy with it!
Sally: Neither was I. It wasn't nearly as good as others we've been to.
Vanessa: I wouldn't have shelled out all that cash on tickets if I'd known.
Sally: I wouldn't have either. I don't think we could have known, though.
Vanessa: Neither do I. Live and learn, I guess. When you've been to as many good concerts as we've been to, we shouldn't complain.
Sally: Maybe this wasn't as interesting as others because we're a bit jaded.
Vanessa: We did meet some interesting people.
Sally: The busker that played was fun as well.
Vanessa: Do you think Peter would want to spend an evening watching musicals?
Sally: For sure. He's a big movie buff. Besides, if there's food, he'll be ecstatic!
Vanessa: I think so too!

Let's Practice!

Sally and Vanessa discuss movies!

Instructions: Underline the correct answer.

1. I'm not very / as / more well-versed on names of musicals as I should be though.
2. That would give us a list of as many / as much / as not movies as we could watch in an evening.
3. It wasn't nearly as / so as / as nearly good as others we've been to.
4. Maybe this wasn't as interesting / as interesting as / as not interesting as others because we're a bit jaded.
5. When you have been to as many good / as such good / as better concerts as we've been to, we shouldn't complain.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa and Sally watch movies together!

Instructions: Match each sentence with its corresponding response. Write the number in front of each response.

- | | |
|---|----------------------------------|
| 1. I think I'd like to watch some older Hollywood musicals this weekend. | a. _____ Neither was I. |
| 2. I could also look up some online. | b. _____ I wouldn't have either. |
| 3. I really hate to go on about that music festival, but I wasn't at all happy with it! | c. _____ So would I. |
| 4. I wouldn't have shelled out all that cash on the tickets if I'd known. | d. _____ So could I. |
| 5. I don't think we could have known though. | e. _____ Neither do I. |

Extension Activity

Discuss and then write a dialogue about a music event that you went to.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Tell someone about a music event you have been to (a band, a festival or a concert).
- Discuss the experience (who you went with, how much the tickets were and how the music was).
- Write a dialogue between you and a friend who went to the same music event. Write about what you both enjoyed and did not enjoy.
- Include some language for agreeing and comparison.
- Read the dialogue with someone.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about music and socializing.

☐ ☐

I write about music and socializing.

☐ ☐

I compare two things or people.

☐ ☐

I agree or disagree.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- Hollywood (noun): A place in the U.S. that is famous for making films e.g. I'd like to watch some old Hollywood musicals this weekend.
- well-versed (adjective): to know a lot about something e.g. I'm not as well-versed in names of musicals as I should be though.
- to shell out (verb): to give a large amount of something e.g. I wouldn't have shelled out all that cash on the tickets if I'd known.
- movie buff (noun): someone who knows a lot about movies
e.g. He's a big movie buff; he watched movies all weekend.
- to live and learn (expression): to find out something surprising
e.g. We couldn't have known that would happen; live and learn!
- jaded (adjective): less interested and tired of something
e.g. This concert wasn't as interesting as others because we're a bit jaded.

Learning Points

Making Comparisons

We use as + adjective/adverb + as to make comparisons when the things we are comparing are equal in some way:

This leather jacket is as soft as a sweater!

You use comparative adjectives to compare yourself to another person.

You use superlative adjectives to compare yourself or something to a group of people.

We use not as ... as to make comparisons between things which aren't equal:

This leather jacket is not as expensive as that one.

You can compare things using the words more (than) or less (than).

You can also use adjectives to compare things. Some adjectives change to different words in the comparative and superlative form (good - better, bad - worse).

With one syllable words, you add -er to the adjective to make the comparative form. You add -est to the adjective to make the superlative form.

With words of two or more syllables, you add the word more before the adjective or adverb in the comparative form. You add the most before the adjective or the adverb in the superlative form.

Examples:

- I didn't think it was going to go as long as it was.
- It wasn't as deafening as the one last year.
- The bands weren't as interesting as the bands that played last year.
- The Music Man parody was almost as slick as past musical productions.
- I think I'd like to watch some older Hollywood musicals this weekend.
- I'm not as well-versed on names of the best musicals as I should be though.
- He's the biggest movie buff. Besides, if there's food, he'll be more ecstatic!

Learning Points

Responses with So and Neither

We use so and neither for positive and negative agreement.

So is used to show agreement with positive statements. Sometimes we also use too to express the same thing. Example:

Amanda: I like this dress!

Janet: So do I./I do too.

Neither is used to show agreement with negative statements. Sometimes we also use either to express the same thing. Example:

Amanda: I don't think this fits well.

Janet: Neither do I. (neither is a negative word)

I don't either. (either is used with the negative)

When you use so and neither, the auxiliary needs to agree with the verb tense in the original statement.

A more colloquial form of negative agreement is Me too. A more colloquial form of positive agreement is Me neither.

Statement	Positive agreement
I think I'd like to watch some old Hollywood musicals this weekend.	So would I.
I think they could recommend some.	So do I.
I could also look up some online.	So could I.
That would give us a list of as many movies as we could watch in an evening, I think.	So do I.

Learning Points

Statement	Negative agreement
I'm not as well-versed on names of musicals as I should be though.	Neither am I.
I really hate to go on about that music festival, but I wasn't at all happy with it!	Neither was I.
I wouldn't have shelled out all that cash on the tickets if I'd known.	I wouldn't have either.
I don't think we could have known though.	Neither do I.

