Let's Start!

Writing Spot: Grab Your Dancing Shoes!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe taste and style in music and fashion through a wider range of language in both work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What kind of music do you listen to?
- Have you ever been to a music festival or listened to a live band? When?

Can Do Statements

- I can write about socializing and music.
- I can make comparisons using as ... as and not as.
- I can compare two things or people and describe the quality of an object or a person.

Let's Explore!

Sally and Vanessa are driving home after a shopping spree. They are making plans for the weekend.

* A "spree" is a short period of time when you do a lot of something.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Who's that?
Sally: Where?
Vanessa: On the radio. I heard that song at Hannibal's last weekend.
Sally: That club on 14th Avenue next to the tastiest pizza place in town, Pizzario's?
Vanessa: This music is not as loud as the music you usually listen to.
Sally: Hey, I think I've got great taste in music.
Vanessa: Hmmm ... What time are we meeting Sarah and Gary tomorrow morning?
Sally: I told them 8 a.m. sharp at gate 401. We need to be as close as possible to the action. Some bands will ask you to join them on stage. There's even crowd-surfing.
Vanessa: If you want to be flung in the air, fine by me. My feet will be firmly planted on the ground.
Sally: Oh come on ... Where is your sense of adventure?
Vanessa: I heard that the Coachanga arts and music festival is usually packed. The ticket agent said it was one of the most popular events of the year.
Sally: It's almost as popular as going to Fenway Park to watch a baseball game.
Vanessa: I think it's more popular ... Especially if you're not a sports fan. So, what did you decide to buy at the shoe store?
Sally: Open the bag... They were the prettiest ones in the store.
Vanessa: Sally, where on earth are you going to wear these? You know what they remind me of ...
Sally: My old silver flip-flops right? After I lost them on my trip, I've been looking for replacements.
Vanessa: Sal, silver stilettos with diamantes?
Sally: Yes, aren't they fabulous? I'm going to be the most fashionable person there.
Vanessa: These high-heels are as frightening as your flip-flops. This is the silliest purchase ever! Enter through gate 402, not 401 like the rest of us ...
Sally: Not funny!

Let's Practice!

Are the funniest, the smartest or the kindest* students in your class?

Do you listen most attentively of all?

*You use the superlative form of an adjective to show something has a quality to the greatest or least degree.

The superlative form of an adverb is used to show something has performed an action to the greatest or least degree.

Instructions: Find the superlatives in the wordsearch below.

1. The ticket agent said it was one of the most popular events of the year.
2. I'm going to be the most fashionable person there.
3. This is the silliest purchase ever!
4. They were the prettiest ones in the store.
5. That club on 14th Avenue next to the tastiest pizza place in town, Pizzario's?

Let's Practice!

Going to a Music Festival.

Instructions:

- Write a 120-150 word diary entry about going to a music festival or concert.
- Include a date and a greeting.
- Start with a topic sentence that explains what the diary entry will be about.
- Where was the event located? Provide a description.
- Who did you go with? Friends or family?
- When did you arrive? Early in the morning? Late at night?
- Describe the music, the sounds and the people around you.
- Did you sing along? Did you dance? Was there crowd-surfing?
- Use 2 superlatives in the diary entry.
- Write a concluding sentence to sum up your experience.
- When you have finished writing your diary entry, proofread your diary entry for any spelling, grammar or punctuation errors.
- Read your diary entry aloud to a partner.

My Diary Entry on Music and Socializing

Extension Activity

You and your friend can never agree!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a 12-14-line dialogue about socializing and music.
- Imagine you and a friend want to go to different music events on the weekend. You want to go to a rock concert. They want to attending a country music festival.
- Describe where the events are, who is going and how you will get there.
- Use comparatives and superlatives to support your argument. Examples: We should go to the rock concert in the city this weekend. The music is better and it is more popular than the country music festival. Country music festivals are not as exciting as rock concerts. I had the best time last year!
- Proofread your dialogue.
- Read your dialogue aloud with a partner.

Learning Points

Making Comparisons

We use as + adjective/adverb + as to make comparisons when the things we are comparing are equal in some way.

We use not as ... as to make comparisons between things which aren't equal.

Examples:

- These shoes are as ugly as your old ones.
- Her cat, Meenee, is not as friendly as the one next door.
- Her job does not pay as much as his.

Superlatives

You use the superlative to say what thing, person, or idea has the most of a particular quality within a group or of its kind.

Superlative adjectives normally come before any other adjectives.

Base Word	Ending	Example
Words of one syllable ending in e.	Add -st to the end of the word.	Whales are the largest animals on earth.
Words of one syllable, with one vowel and one consonant at the end.	Double the consonant and add -est to the end of the word.	Who had the biggest birthday party last year?
Words of one syllable, with more than one vowel or more than one consonant at the end.	Add -est to the end of the word.	That is the toughest job in the company.
Words of two syllables, ending in y.	Change y to i, and add -est to the end of the word.	That is the silliest thing I have ever done.
Words of two syllables or more, not ending in y.	Place "the most" before the adjective.	That is the most beautiful dress in the store.
